MULTI-ARTS IN ELECTRONIC MEDIA

A FESTIVAL OF DREAMS

TWO Books of Poetry and Visual Art
in PDF format on CD-ROM

And More...

Multi-Artist Daniel Dreamwalker presents
A New Dreamwalker Media Release:

A double eBook project, "A Festival of Dreams" on CD-ROM, in PDF (Acrobat Reader) format.
Book One: DREAMER'S DESTINATION (64 pages);
Book Two: The LIGHTS At ARRIVAL (64 pages).

"A Festival of Dreams" is the title of the combined, multi-arts work. Beneath that big tent, under the spotlight in the center ring, is a new, two-book package: six chapters of illustrated poetry, with drawings, photographs, and electronic art. The graphic design is an equally important element.

A tenaciously creative multi-artist over four decades, Daniel Dreamwalker (yes, it's a stage/pen name) has compiled a program of his best work in several arts, beginning with his selected best poetry. The books include several collections of poems and visual art, synthesized and assembled into an illustrated, graphic poetry "extravaganza."

Begun in 2010 as a single book project, these two books of poetry and visual art are now different, both in size and shape, and in style. Book One, DREAMER'S DESTINATION, is A 64 page chap-book, with two chapters of illustrated poetry in a standard 6"X9" trade-book format.

Book Two, The LIGHTS At ARRIVAL, is also 64 pages, wide (4X3) aspect, 9"X7". It is unapologetically unusual, and strongly visual. It holds four chapters of poetry, in pages enlivened with art and color, each one different, with visual themes that mutate throughout the book.

The larger, multi-arts work includes spoken-word performance, art and photograph slideshows, and a set of original songs. Future media releases of the material are to include printed books, an audio book, video, and a music CD.

The two-book project is available in eBook form on CD-ROM. In PDF format, it is easily viewed in the ubiquitous Adobe Acrobat Reader.

What are the books about? Romance, melodrama and mystery; all that life holds for the adventurous and sometimes-lost soul who dares to dream; love and aftermath, emotional survival and healing, the journey to understanding, and emergence into light.
